

HE OWES HIS LIFE
TO EARLY DETECTION,
THE RIGHT PRESCRIPTION, AND A LITTLE WHITE MOUSE.

He couldn't know about clinical trials, histopathology or bacteriology. All he knows is that since he took that medicine, he feels well enough to play, and as far as we're concerned, that's all that matters. As a global provider of critical solutions for the advancement of drug discovery, Charles River Laboratories is committed to humane and ethical treatment. It is our responsibility to treat our animals with compassion. Because they are living, feeling creatures and it's the right thing to do. Because their health will impact the quality of biomedical research. Because lives depend on it.

charles river | www.criver.com 1.877.CRIVER.1